MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

Business has been rather dull during the week, and with the exception of a slight movement in the grain market there is nothing worthy of special notice, and trade is regulated by wants of consumers. In money matters there is a continued stringency in almost all branches of trade, but on first class security there is no difficulty in obtaining money. In Baltimore the demand for money in the local market is still far short of the supply, and borrowers on good collsterals find no difficulty in obtaining loans at 3215 per cent. The offerings of commercial paper are light. The best names sell at 425, with a few exceptional negotiations at a fraction less. In the New York money market Stock Exchange quotations for call loans are 3a32 per cent. Prime mercantile paper is 3a5 per cent; sixty to ninety days 3 per cort; four months 3a31 per cent, and six months 4 per cent. The rates for money in the Phildelphia market are 5:4 per cent and four and a half to six per cent for discounts. The subscriptions to the four per cent loan yesterday, amounted to $1,756,700, making a total of $9,003,550 since the last call for 6 per cent. bonds was issued. The falling off in the subscriptions to the 4 per cents has strenghtened some of the older issues of Governments, and there is much less doing in the way of exchanging except in the 5.20s and 10.40s, which are the next in order of calling. The market generally shows an advancing tendency, and prices are & higher for 6s of 1881 and new 5s, and ! for currency 6s and 41 per cents. The demund is mostly for the currency 6; new 5; and 6; of 1881, in the order named. State bonds dull; sales yesterday of $5,000 Virginia consols, at buyer sixty, at 55, closing 543 bid, 555 asked. Coupons were a shade firmer, selling at 774 1771 There was no movement in Railroad shares reported, but Baltimore and Ohio closed firm, nominally at 95 bid, 96 asked. Local shares are very quiet and dull, with sales of Manassas 7s at 474, closing at 48a50. We quote:

WHOLESALE QUOTATIONS IN ALEXANDRIA

Corn is stronger, and all that was offered brought 42 for white. Hye and Cats are steady at quotations, but there were no offerings to day. Country produce is firm, but there is little coming in. Dressed Hogs and Turkies are in demand, and sell readily at quotations. Butter and Eggs unchanged. Bacon is firm at a slight advance. Clover and Timothy Seed are in fair inquiry. CONCERT LAST NIGHT .- The concert given ast wight at Sarepta Hall for the benefit of Chris: Church was a success in every particular, and was one of the rarest musical treats that the citizens of Alexandria have enjoyed for a long time. The estimable and accomplished lady who managed the concert with indefetigable energy, from its conception to its happy termination, must have felt proud as the hall filled to everflowing with such an enthusiastic and appreciative audience, and she is justly entitled to the praise and eccomiums which were so lavishly heaped upon her by all in attendance. Prof. Heyman was the musical director, and sustained his reputation as an artist. The en tertainment commenced by a piano duet by Misses Freach and Marye, who performed La Reino Blanche in a most masterly manner, and were leadly applauded. Then came Mr. Hanoock, who sang a bass sole; he was followed in turn by Miss Dienelt and and Mr. Buchanan in a duct ; a male quartette ; Miss Virginia Evans in an exquisite alto solo, and the first part of the programme was closed by Mr. Buchanan in a tenor solo. After a short intermission, Mr. Wm. Mollerus rendered some delightful music on the flate, of which instrument he is mester. Miss Alice Courtney then sang, "If Thou Could'st Know," in so admirable a manper that she won the appleuse of the entire audience. Miss Kate Stuart next sang a pretty balled in a most charming way, and Mr. C. Read's bais solo that followed was magnificcot. Misses. Dienelt and Evans, and Messrs. Buchanan and Read then sang the quartette from "Rigeletto," which closed the evening's entertainment. The pieces were well selected and were rendered in the best style, and the performers were repeatedly encored, and brought back upon the stage, thus showing the appreciation with which they were met by the audience, who will long remember the concert given for the bene-fit of Christ Church. After the concert the performers and a few friends were most hospitably and delightfully entertained at the resi dence of the lady manager. .

The various fire companies have made most elaborate preparations for the event and it is expected that their display will be finer than

THE LATE COL. CHILTON. -Col. R. II. Chilton, who served as an adjutant general on the staff of Gen. Lee during the late war, and who died suddenly in Columbus, Ga., Tuesday, was born in Virginia over sixty years ago, and was a cadet at West Point from July 1,1833, to July 1, 1837, when he was graduated and promoted in the United States army to the rank of second lieutenant in the First Dragoons. From the date of his appointment up to 1839 he performed frontier duty at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and the Osage country. During the latter part of 1839 and up to 1841 he was stationed in the Choctaw Nation and at Fort Gibson and Fort Wayne, in the Indian Territory. On February 21, 1842, he was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in the same command, and after doing additional frontier duty accompanied the expedition to the Falls of the Brazos, Texas, in 1814. Returning to Fort Gibson the same year, he remained there until 1845, when he was again ordered to Fort Leavenworth, where he remained until his regiment was summened to the front in the war with Mexico, a year later. During that condict he participated, as a captain, in the battle of Busna Vista, fought on February 22 and 23, 1847, and was appointed brevet major for galiant and meritorious conduct on that occasion. While again engaged in frontier duty during 1849, Major Chilton took part in a skirmish on the Platte river, near Fort Kearney, Neb., on Ce-tober 29. Between 1850 and 1854 he was stationed at various forts on the frontier, after which he became an attache, for a short period. of the psy department is Washington, with the rank of paymaster. He was subsequently stationed at New York, Detroit and San Autopio. On April 29, 1861, he resigned his com-Ford, of Alexandria, and E. T. Fellows, of Resear county, Mass. and Ellen A. Luckett, of mission and entered the Confederate army, Loudoun county, Va. where he served with great efficiency.

NERVE INQUIETUDE AND ITS REMEDY. Restless nerves, at least those that are constantly so, are weak ones as well. The true way to tranquilize them thoroughly is to strengthen them. It may be, nay, it very often is necessary to have recourse to a sedative or even an opite, in dangerous cases of nervous inquietude. but the continued use of such unnatural pailiatives, is greatly to be deprecated. Though not, in a restricted sense, a specific for nervousness, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is eminently calcu-lated to allay and eventually overcome it, a fact which the recorded experience of many goes to substantiate. This mestimable tonic, by promoting digestion, assimilation and secretion, touches the three key notes upon which the harmony of all the bodily organs depends, and the result is that fresh stores of vitality are diffused through the system, of which the nerves receive thir due apportionment, and grow tranquil as hey gather strength.
